Really pure soap lathers!

Soap that is white and not strongly perfumed tells you its makers are not afraid to show their soap as it really is. Soap that looks and smells wholesome needs no masking. If a soap is not merely white but creamy white, you can expect rich quality—and quality means rich, thick, creamy lather in any water together with perfect purity and mildness. That's what you get in Sweetheart's big oval cake. Delicately scented, delightful soap.

Low priced too—at your grocer's

THATCHER BOILERS-FURNACES-RANGES

Cleanliness

THE discriminating modern housewife not only demands a kitchen range that cooks with the highest degree of efficiency, but appreciates one that is clean and sanitary—finished in porcelain enamel—which can be kept bright by merely wiping with a damp cloth.

The Thatcher "Twin Fire" (combination coal and gas range) meets this description, and in addition has many labor saving conveniences not found in other ranges.

Mail coupon below and literature will be sent you describing in detail the many unusual features of the "Twin-Fire."

The Thatcher "Twin-Fire" while compactly built has very spacious ovens and broiling compartments. The handiness of the "pull-down broiler rack" as shown above, is just one of the exclusive features which will immediately appeal to the housewife. Write today.

KILLS UNCLE IN SQUABBLE OVER TRACT OF LAND

Boy's Aim Deadly in Duel Precipitated by Quarrel of Elders.

Lexington, Ky.—Samuel Whittaker, nineteen-year-old son of a prominent Magoma county family, has just been released on $20,000 bond at Salersville, Ky., southwest of here, for the alleged murder of his uncle, Jesse Hale.

The trouble started between William Whittaker, forty years old, and his brother-in-law, Jesse Hale, thirty-five years old, in regard to a tract of land, the ownership of which was claimed by both. The elder Whittaker failed to shoot down his brother-in-law and was on the point of being killed himself, when his son, Sam Whittaker, appeared on the scene.

His Only Shot Fatal.
Sam coolly asked for his father's weapon and challenged Hale to come out in the open and fight him. At the first shot young Whittaker put a bullet through his uncle's heart, thus ending the battle, according to reports received here.

Young Whittaker was taken to Salersville, the county seat, by his father and another uncle, W. B. Shepard, and released under $20,000 bond for his appearance at an examining trial.

According to reports, the trouble was precipitated when Hale and his son came upon the Whittakers and a crew of workmen constructing a road through the land in dispute. The elder Hale, it is claimed, immediately opened fire, and a dozen men, including the Whittakers, hurried to safety behind trees and rocks.

Fight From Behind Trees.
Hale and the elder Whittaker, brother-in-law, concealed behind trees, in Indian fashion, started to shoot it out. Their defenses proved impenetrable, and young Sam Whittaker, according to reports, grew tired of watching his father's shots bury themselves in the tree.

"You're doing no good," Sam told his father, and taking his weapon, challenged Hale to step out in the open and fight like a man.

Hale accepted the taunt and moved from behind his tree, facing his challenger. Both fired, apparently simultaneously. Hale fell, shot through the breast, and died within five minutes. Young Whittaker was untouched.

Hale is survived by his widow, his mother, nine children and a number of sisters and brothers.

Sent to Prison for Fatally Beating Child

Hartings, Minn.—Anthony Lucking, farmer of Maraban, alleged to have beaten to death his eight-year-old orphaned nephew, Arthur Mamer, has been sentenced to state prison for from one to fifteen years.

Lucking's trial started in the District court and six jurors had been selected when the defendant decided to plead guilty to a charge of second-degree manslaughter, saying he "wanted to get it over with."

Arthur died of a cerebral hemorrhage after he had been whipped with a rubber hose. The beating was administered because Lucking thought the lad had stolen 65 cents, according to county authorities. The money was found in a bureau drawer the day after the child died.

Hypnotized Lion Wakes, Tears Arm Off Trainer

Berlin.—The iron will of a man, seriously wounded and suffering agonies of pain, but triumphing over a lion's ferocity, was witnessed at a Hamburg circus by panic-stricken thousands. Herr Labors, who specializes in experiments of human will power over the world's most ferocious animals, had cowed a powerful lion into unconsciousness, but when the lion awoke he burst his claws into the shoulder of the artist, leaving only shreds of his arm. Herr Labors stared at the attacking lion, which snarled into unconsciousness. Labors was then helped out of the cage by attendants and doctors.

"Golf Widower"

Makes Pity Plan

Brooklyn, N. Y.—More Adolphus Brown, "golf widower," excited a piteous plea in Supreme court recently.

According to Brown, his wife is so abstracted by golf that she will not sew buttons on his shirt, will not take care of their five-year-old son and pays the fees and other expenses of men who belong to the exclusive Wheatly Hills club.

The husband's complaint came in answer to Mrs. Nephele Brown's petition for alimony and counsel fees, pending trial of her suit for separation.

SIX ARE KILLED BY GIANT BATS

Mexican State Terrorized by Monster Mammals.

Mexico City.—Blood-sucking bats measuring 20 inches from tip to tip of extended wings are reported to be terrorizing inhabitants of the southern Mexican state of Oaxaca, as the Egyptians were terrorized by the biblical plagues.

Martiniano Caso, an Oaxaca farmer, who has just arrived here to procure expert medical treatment for a young son, reports that so many children and animals have died in his native state recently from loss of blood to bats there is a movement on foot to appoint a commission to come to the capital and request the federal government's aid in the matter.

Six children, ranging in age from six months to four years, died in one night from the silent visitations of blood-sucking bats, according to Senor Caso, and this in one small town.

The bats are said to enter bedrooms noiselessly, settle down upon their sleeping victims with less disturbance than a falling leaf and suck blood so painlessly that even light sleepers are not awakened, except sometimes by a subconscious warning that something is wrong.

Lightning Burns Off

Nebraska Man's Beard

Alliance, Neb.—Struck on the head by lightning, Joe W. Kennedy, forty-five, farmer, still lives to tell the tale, and the attending physician says he will recover.

Kennedy was riding a gang plow pulled by four horses. He saw the storm approaching, but not regarding it as particularly threatening, he kept on with his work. He says he saw no flash and heard no thunder, but the next thing he knew was when he found a doctor bending over him in the hospital here.

The lightning struck Kennedy above the right ear, burned the crown of his hat, scorched the hair from his head and plowed its way across his cheek, jumping from there to his chest, which was seared, and onto his legs, where deep burns were left. From there it entered the iron seat of the plow on which he was riding, melting the metal into a mass and then passed along a steel cable to which his lead team of horses was attached to the plow. One of the four was instantly killed.

Kennedy was knocked unconscious and was found a half-hour later by his wife and daughter. The lightning put out of commission most of the telephones in the neighborhood.

The course of the lightning could be clearly traced from where it struck Kennedy to where it leaped from his body. A full set of whiskers that adorned his face went up in smoke.

Reclines Nude on Ice and Fans to Keep Cool

Atlanta, Ga.—Albert Allen, negro, who, despite the lack of clothing and the aid of a block of ice, still suffered from the heat, was given 30 days in which to cool off.

Allen, it was revealed in police court, owed his excessive heat to three drinks of corn liquor. After taking them, he told Judge A. W. Callaway, he went home and went to bed, but couldn't sleep.

He walked around in an attempt to get cool, and then took off all his clothing and went back to bed. But the bed was too hot. He got up and decided to walk around a bit, forgetting his lack of clothing.

A policeman found Allen peacefully reclining on a 100-pound block of ice in front of a drug store. And Allen, clothed as he was on his icy bed, was fantastically fanning himself with an enormous piece of cardboard. At court, Allen, still sans clothing, appeared before the judge wrapped in a jail blanket—and still perspiring. The judge's sentence was immediate—10 or 30 days.

And Allen, having no clothes, naturally had no pockets, and with no pockets carried no money.

Nourishes Without Heating

Children thrive on TODDY

Most Summer ailments of children are caused by over-heating. Mothers want a food that will nourish without heating.

That food is TODDY—the new food drink.

A Meal in a Glass

TODDY contains every food essential—carbohydrates, proteins, fats, mineral salts and vitamins in the correct proportion for strength and growth. Makes milk nearly twice as nourishing and easier to digest. One glass of TODDY has more food value in calories than an eight ounce serving of oatmeal.

A Perfect Summer Food

TODDY is almost instantly absorbed. Give your children TODDY and light food. They can go right out and play hard without distress to their little stomachs. No bothering to prepare fatty meals. Mother and the whole family have more time to enjoy the daylight when they get the TODDY habit.

Try cracked ice or ice cream in TODDY. It's a treat!

Take a thermos jug or bottle of cold or hot TODDY with you on auto trips and picnics.

One Cent A Word Advs. Bring Results

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—Opposing speculative forces struggled for control of today's stock market with the result that there was considerable confusion in price movements. Despite the fact that they were forced to contend with a large volume of pre-holiday realizing operators for the rise appeared to have the advantage, bringing forward new leaders whenever the old favorites showed signs of wavering.

An early attempt to unsettle the general list was based on rumors of an early increase in the rediscount rates of some of the smaller federal reserve banks, particularly Philadelphia, but this was offset by the appearance of a large volume of gains in the call money market at the renewal rate of 4 1/2 per cent, as against an opening rate of five per cent yesterday. The optimistic sentiment expressed by George F. Baker, veteran banker also helped to create bullish enthusiasm despite his reiteration of the belief that no stock dividend would be paid in the near future on United States Steel common, which slumped from 151 1/2 to 149 1/2, but rallied above 150 by early afternoon.

Although the large commission houses reported that the public was slow in re-entering the market, pools were again busy in a number of ordinarily inactive specialties such as General American Tank, International Nickel, Virginia Carolina Chemical and Owens Bottle Motors suddenly leaped into prominence in the early afternoon, when bullish demonstrations were started simultaneously in several of the low priced issues such as Chrysler, Dodge Brothers A., Pierce Arrow and Packard. Revival of activity in the copper was predicted in belief that the foreign demand for the red metal will be materially increased when the financial stabilization schemes in Italy, Belgium and France are carried into effect.

Railroad shares started upward at the opening but ran into heavy profit taking sales as the session progressed. However, several new high records were again recorded in that group.

N.Y. Strike Boss Marches Uptown

His Army Creates Some Excitement and General Baruffin Posts Pickets and Retires in Good Order From the Field.

At noon today about fifty of the strikers from Max Haren's garment factory on Broadway, led by one of the staff of organizers from New York city, marched uptown to the factory of Benjamin Yedlin on the corner of Fair and Franklin street. Their presence immediately created considerable excitement among the residents of that section of the city and one woman became so excited that she sent in a riot call for the police.

The strikers and the members of the organizing staff were met by a special policeman who has been on duty at the garment factory for about ten days. The policeman told the organizer that neither he or the strikers would be molested if they did not create any disturbance. The leader then said that the only thing they were going to do was to picket the place during the noon hour. This they were told they could do provided they did not create a disturbance or commit an overt act of any kind.

The strikers proceeded to picket the place, where there are about fifteen or sixteen garment workers, during the noon hour and then left. They announced that they intended to continue to picket the factory every noon.

FRENCH AIR SUPREMACY.

Although we were the pioneers in aviation, several nations are now far ahead of us in sending both passengers and freight through the air. And, though we have done remarkable things in the matter of records for speed over short distances—sprints through the air, so to speak—foreigners, and particularly the French, have eclipsed us in the greater achievements.

In a summary of present records we read: "In altitude the French are first and apparently unapproachable. On August 23, Cailloz went up 41,511 feet, breaking his own record of 39,573 feet. The American record, held by Lieutenant John A. Macready, is 38,704 feet. The French are also supreme in non-stop flight. In July, Captain Giffier and Lieutenant Dordilly flew from Paris to Omaha, Nebraska. The air line distance is 2,937 miles, but they probably covered more than 3,000 miles. The record previously made was 2,700 miles, from Le Bourget to Basra, on the Persian Gulf. . . . Over a course of three kilometers Lieutenant Alfred J. Williams of our navy recently flew at the rate of 266 miles an hour, but a French pilot, Benet, has darted over a similar course at a speed of 278 miles an hour."

It is hardly flattering to this country, yet in view of conditions not surprising, to read that, not an American, but a Frenchman, Captain Rene Fonck, will soon undertake a non-stop flight from New York to Paris.

SCREEN-STAR FAME.

A certain newspaper gave a very brief editorial notice of the death of Dr. Charles W. Elliot and devoted a column of editorial discussion to the death and career of Rudolph Valentino. Hundreds read the one—perhaps in many cases only from a sense of duty. Thousands read the other, and all the columns of news, with the keenest interest. There was similar multiplied interest in all the news about Valentino's illness, as compared with the keen but limited interest in the news about Kipling when he was dangerously ill in New York some years ago. To paraphrase a comparative Biblical reference to Saul and David, Kipling had won his thousands, but Valentino had won his tens of thousands, his millions in fact. It has been estimated that some of his picture-characterizations were witnessed by 150,000,000 persons. His name was known to the ends of the earth, as no other name has been known—perhaps not even that of Charlie Chaplin or of "Doug and Mary".

And yet he was only an actor of pantomime, and not even a great actor as measured by the standards of Bernhardt, Duse, Ristori, Coquelin, Salvini, Booth and the rest of the bright galaxy of dramatic stars. It was a triumph of personality—based largely upon mere bloom of youth and extra good looks, but more than all, chiefly, it was a triumph of screen publicity, particularly that vast publicity provided by world-conquering American films. The popular American screen actor has opportunity to acquire a far-reaching fame that even world-conquering Alexander could not win. But obviously such vastly extended fame, after a brief span, is destined to fade out almost as rapidly as it flared up.

"PHILIPPINE MAHOAGANY."

Irish stew hot from the pot is no deception, for there is neither claim nor trusting belief that it was imported from Ireland; but Irish lace made in China is quite another matter and the Federal Trade Commission has ruled that it must be sold as "Irish patterned lace," so that nobody can be deceived that it came from the Emerald Isle. There is now a similar ruling in the case of "Philippine mahogany." It seems that people who have bought it all over the country have believed it to be just what it is called, but it is not mahogany of any sort, and the effect has been that it must be sold as such or be represented. We read that the lumber manufacturers, furniture dealers and trade papers protest, contending that as the wood has been sold under the name of Philippine mahogany for a considerable time, they should be permitted to go on selling it under that attractive label. According to report, they fear, or say that they fear, that the Commission's ruling will lead to the compulsory use of botanical names for all woods, and will not a customer turn around and walk out if, when he asks for red cedar, he is laboriously introduced to Juniperus virginiana?

Of course the obvious answer is that no ponderous botanical names need be hung at any startled customer's head. There is no reason why the plain English name of the wood should not be employed in all cases; but no wood that is not real mahogany ought to be so called. The Federal Trade Commission merely aims to protect the buying public from deception of this or any other sort, and consumers can not fail to sympathize with the commendable effort, however brazenly manufacturers and dealers may protest under the long-encouraged belief that they alone have any right to governmental assistance.

That Body of Yours

AN AFTER VACATION SUGGESTION.

After a summer vacation it is not unusual for many folks to sit down and forget the outdoors for another year.

Perhaps during the first few days of the vacation they felt a bit tired and sleepy, but later began to feel the zest of life that comes with complete burning up of the wastes of the body.

As this appetite gained outdoors does not immediately depart from them when they return from the vacation, they continue to eat large meals notwithstanding lack of fresh air and exercise.

The result is a "blue" feeling which they attribute to the vacation. In other words they feel that the vacation has done them more harm than good. I am not referring to our young men and women who look on a vacation as a chance to spend all the days outdoors and half the nights dancing. They of course do come home completely exhausted and do not recover for one or two months. But that is why they take a vacation, that is their idea of a real "change." I'm not blaming them, at least not just now anyway.

But I have in mind our older folks who come back to their work, and live the indoor life completely. They get hardly any air, and to make this a real serious matter, they continue to eat heavy meals.

It is just here that a real set back occurs, because the liver becomes congested, and poisons are not removed from the blood.

The liver as you know has a number of jobs, and depends upon your good sense not to overwork it.

For instance if you eat a lot of sugar and fats, it tries to store the one and help break up the other by means of its bile.

You see if you eat these foods and then do two simple things, you can prevent this overworked condition of the liver. Simply get outdoors and take a real good walk. The walking will use up, or burn up these foods, and the outdoor air will help to burn it up a great deal faster than it can be done indoors.

So when you come back from a vacation you can retain all the good derived from it, by simply taking a real walk every day.

It not only retains your investment of the vacation, but gives you interest on it.

Today's Story in New York History

By Frederic A. Godcharles.

(Copyright, 1926, by the Author)

Sir Charles Hardy Arrived in New York and Became Governor of Province, Sept. 2, 1755.

Sir Charles Hardy arrived at New York, September 2, 1755, bearing a commission as governor of the province, and immediately assumed charge of the government.

Sir Charles was a captain in the royal navy, about fifty years of age at the time of his appointment, and had been knighted. He had been in America before, having served as governor of Newfoundland in 1744.

Governor Hardy retained Lieutenant Governor James DeLancey in office, and the latter also performed the functions of the chief justice. Submitting to the advice of DeLancey, the new governor did not seek to enforce the instructions with which he was charged, he soon became popular with the assembly.

At the time of Hardy's arrival New York was the scene of much military activity. Governor Shirley, of Massachusetts, was leading his expeditions against Fort Niagara, in which his troops, discouraged by the dings of Braddock's defeat, and broken down by sickness and the difficulties of the route through New York, did not reach Oswego until August 21. There they commenced the erection of a new fort, and constructed boats to bear them across Lake Ontario. But storms, heavy rains, and a scarcity of provisions, combined to delay the progress of the enterprise until the season was too far advanced to attempt it with any degree of safety. Shirley left 700 men in the garrison at Oswego, and disbanding the rest of his forces, returned to Albany, where they arrived October 12.

The vicinity of Lake George was the scene at this moment of the only one of the four English expeditions which was successful.

General William Johnson, at the head of the provincial forces, on September 8, 1755, utterly defeated Baron Dieskau at Lake George, and by this success received the thanks of Parliament, was created a baronet and voted £5000 to support the dignity.

But instead of proceeding from the scene of this victory to the immediate reduction of Crown Point, which was the objective of the expedition, Sir William, apprehensive of an attack with artillery, lingered on the borders of Lake George, where he employed the troops in building Fort William Henry, which he garrisoned with 600 men and disbanded the remainder of his troops.

The English had many more and better troops than the French but had accomplished nothing of moment. This encouraged the Indians friendly to the French to follow up the successes of their active ally, by ravaging and laying waste the weak and exposed frontiers of New York and Pennsylvania.

In the midst of this deplorable state of affairs, a congress of governors and military officers met at New York, December 12, to adopt a plan of operations for the ensuing year. They agreed to raise an army of 21,000 men, one-half of whom were to renew the expedition against Crown Point; 6,000 to attempt the reduction of Fort Niagara; while the remaining 5,000 were to be employed against Fort Duquesne.

Great Britain formally declared war against France in May, 1756, and John Campbell, fourth Earl of Loudoun, a very lazy and most inefficient man, was appointed Shirley's successor as commander-in-chief of the British forces in America, with also a commission as governor of Virginia.

The provincial officers were to be subordinate to those commissioned by the crown, and the troops were to be quartered on private houses. These acts gave great offense throughout the Colonies.

Loudoun arrived July 27, 1756, and on August 9, 1757, Fort William Henry was surrendered to the French under Montcalm, when the Indians massacred many of the English prisoners of war.

Military operations under Loudoun's command were quite as inefficient elsewhere as in New York, and he was recalled soon after the disaster. During these scenes of the war Governor Hardy was to be in a work more congenial to his training than the ordinary routine of a colonial governor. He grew tired of playing governor, begged to be relieved and to be transferred to some post in the royal navy.

On June 3, 1757, he was permitted to place the direction of affairs once more in the hands of Lieutenant Governor DeLancey. Sir Charles was made rear admiral and had a commanding post in the taking of Louisbourg, July 26, 1758. He was promoted to vice-admiral, and in 1764 was a member of Parliament. He became admiral in 1770, and commanded a large squadron. On retiring from active service he was appointed governor of Greenwich Hospital in 1771. He died in England in 1790, at the age of seventy-five.

Lowden Speaks At Farm Dinner

Ex-Governor of Illinois Says Price of Farm Products Must Be Stabilized—Associated Press Manager Also Speaks.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 2 (AP).—Need of a far-seeing program for the development of agricultural prosperity in the United States was stressed by five speakers before a gathering of 200 men prominent in agriculture, business, government and education at the seventh annual farm dinner given by J. D. Barnum, publisher of the Syracuse Post Standard last night. Addresses were made by Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Sherman J. Lowell, of the United States Tariff Commission; Kent Cooper, general manager of The Associated Press; Lieutenant Governor Seymour Lowman, who appeared in place of Governor Smith forced by illness to be absent; and Dean A. R. Mann of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca.

Some way must be found, said former Governor Lowden, to stabilize the price of farm products. The consumer, he pointed out, derives no benefit from the low price at which agricultural products have at times been sold, remarking, "It is clear that distributors are able to prevent the wide fluctuations which bring distress to the farmer."

Dean Mann, who has recently returned from Europe, spoke on agricultural problems abroad and methods of meeting them. He warned that in the future the United States will be brought face to face with the problems now before the thickly populated nations overseas.

Something of the aims and history of The Associated Press was told by Mr. Cooper.

Alluding to high taxes and other burdens on the farmers, Mr. Lowell, former national leader of the Grange, said: "A price is put on letting farms go to the dogs. As long as farmers have got to pinch to feed their families, they will be forced to starve the soil."

"It is as much your duty," he added, speaking to those not connected with agriculture, "to keep the soil rich as it is to ours."

MARLBOROUGH.

Marlborough, Sept. 2.—Over $33.50 was cleared for the nurses' fund from the Elverhof play last Thursday night. This is a good sum, but the attendance was not at its best. Those who assisted Mrs. E. M. Clark, Jr., in her canvass of Milton were Miss Winifred Driscoll, Mrs. Winifred Bailey, Mrs. Walter Mac Michael and Mrs. Grover Ferguson. Mrs. D. D. Taylor handled the Marlborough end.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Stant and daughter, Lola, and Mrs. E. Ross of Virginia, and Mrs. Barnes of Maryland spent several days at the home of Mrs. Stant's son, W. C. Stant. While here they also visited several other friends.

The regular monthly meeting of the West Marlborough Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Carl A. Rhodes on Wednesday afternoon, September 1. Mrs. William Rhodes acted as assistant hostess.

The local K. of C. will hold open air dances at their pavilion Saturday and Monday nights, September 4 and 5.

Minnie McConnell, Grace Lockwood, Ida Conn, Miss Elinor Buell of Middletown and Miss Alice Mournaval of New York spent last week at Yankee Lake.

The Rev. and Mrs. Montrose, accompanied by Mrs. Chapman and two sons of Bombsville, Mass., left last Wednesday morning by auto for Port Richmond, S. I., where they will visit the Rev. and Mrs. Paul Callender. Mrs. Callender is a sister of Mrs. Montrose, and became the mother of a fine boy recently. The Rev. Mr. Callender is pastor of the Methodist Church in that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Koning of New York visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goudy last Friday, on their return trip from Niagara Falls.

Walter Wodenbine of Albany is spending three weeks at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Calvin Staples, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Myles Dorie entertained a number of relatives from New York city, over the week end.

Juliet Barry enjoyed a week's vacation the past week, part of which she spent in Poughkeepsie.

George Quinn spent a few days the past week with relatives and friends in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. James L. DuBois has returned after a visit of a week with friends in Jersey City.

Miss Mabel Benfman spent last week with Mrs. Kenny in Newburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Harland and Howard Baker spent Wednesday in New York city.

Mrs. Joseph Marrow and daughter, Mary and Lucille, have returned home after a two weeks' visit at Bay-side Beach, Brighton Beach, Brooklyn and New York city. Mr. Marrow spent the week ends with them. Mrs. Goodwin and son, Raymond, of Bay-side, returned with them to remain about a week.

Miss Mariel Hall, of Staten Island is spending a week with her aunt, Mrs. Nicholas Mertez.

The Marlborough Home Company held a clubhouse for the members Sunday evening, on the Smalley grounds on the bank of the Hudson river. All members were present and declared the bake was done in first class order. Joseph Smalley prepared the bake.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

Salads are always acceptable. The following is nourishing enough to take the place of a main dish at a meal:

East India Salad.
Cream 1/2 cup smooth two cream cheeses with one-half cupful of equal parts of cream and milk, add one-half cupful of grated cheese, three-fourths of a tablespoonful of cold water, then add one tablespoonful of boiling water. Season with paprika and cayenne and turn into a border mold. Chill thoroughly, remove from the mold, arrange on a bed of lettuce and serve with the following sauce:

Curry Sauce.—Mix one-fourth of a teaspoonful of pepper with three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of cayenne, five tablespoonfuls of olive oil, three tablespoonfuls of mild vinegar and one teaspoonful of curry. Beat with a Dover egg beater until well blended.

Lettuce With Sherry's Dressing.—Mix three-fourths of a cupful of olive oil with five tablespoonfuls of vinegar, one teaspoonful of powdered sugar, one small southern onion chopped fine, one tablespoonful each of red and green pepper, one teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of cayenne. Put into a mason jar and shake for five minutes. Set on ice and let stand an hour; shake well before using. Serve on lettuce.

Grease Leaf.—Take one and one-half pounds of meat—pork and beef mixed; one good-sized onion chopped, salt, pepper and one cupful of cooked oatmeal; make into a loaf, adding a cupful of tomato. Place in a baking pan and pour over the loaf another cupful of tomato and one-half of a chopped onion. Roast, basting often. Thicken the gravy, serve with the meat. Bake one-half hour in a moderate oven.

Evening Wraps Gain in Importance as Frost Becomes a Possibility—New Shawls Twinkle With Rhinestones and Undulate With Fringe.

Recently this column received a query concerning the advisability of wearing a fine, old, lace shawl—a priceless heirloom. One is justified in having some hesitancy in reviving old-fashioned things, because style is so obviously a game of follow-the-leader. But a shawl—and a lace one—such a thing is surely above the law of style. It is like a Mandarin coat, or a Spanish or Chinese shawl—what the French term a classic, and rightly.

For some time now, Paris designers have turned their talents to shawls. They have made them of squares of brocades, of squares of chiffon, bordered in various ways. They have fringed them and left them unfringed, and have shown a marked aversion to laying the shawl to rest—this in spite of the fact that shawls have been far more fashionable in recent seasons than for half a century.

The really smartest—although one questions the appropriateness of the term—are not the exotic, embroidered, Spanish shawls, or those of the ornate Chinese genre, but are made of this or that, and linked up definitely with the prevailing mode—say, for instance, fringed with ostrich or sprinkled with rhinestones. Lace shawls have had a revival quite consistent with an appreciation of lace for gowns and for trimming.

There has been nothing so far to indicate any change of heart concerning lace. It merits consideration in the social activities to come, both alone and in combinations. Lace has, of course, some restrictions. It indicates something of formality.

UNSELFISH WART HOG

"Well, well, well," said Clarence the Wart Hog, "I hear that I've been asked to tell my story about my great unselfishness. Why, in Texas they are interested in Clarence, the Wart Hog."

"Yes, a little girl named Helen who lives in Texas wants to hear about my unselfishness."

"So, as I am unselfish, I shall also be obliging."

"They come and look at me," continued Clarence, the Wart Hog, "here at the zoo."

"Why they do it is something I have never been able to entirely understand. I am so ugly. So terribly, terribly ugly. And they don't think I am beautiful as they gaze upon me."

"No, I don't fool them in the least. They say:

"Gracious, did you ever see such an ugly creature?"

"Not very polite, but then I do not mind. I am more of a traveler than many of the visitors who come to look at me."

"That's so, you are," said the Red River Hog in the next yard.

"I am a bit of a traveler myself, you know."

"My home was in the western part of Africa. And I'm a fine fellow. I'm one of the few good-looking hogs in the world.

"I have lovely Auburn hair and my shape is very superior."

"As for my disposition—it, too, is good. Truly, I'm a remarkable hog."

"Don't you agree with me?"

"Yes," said Clarence, the Wart Hog. "It is quite wonderful to be all that you are and still be a hog."

"But I must tell you of my travels. I came from Africa, but from the opposite side from your home."

"My home was in eastern Africa."

"And I was brought to the zoo in the most roundabout way. I was very young, and I came through many countries, because I was with a fine gentleman who wished to travel before he got home and who did not want to leave me anywhere along the line."

"But, oh," said Clarence, "it's not only of my journeys of which I want to boast, nor is it because people stare at me, nor is it because I am so different from other creatures, with my horns going this way and going that way, with my little mean snout of a tail, with my ugly watery eyes, with everything about me as ugly and unattractive as I can be."

"I only boast of this."

"It is of this that Helen in Texas wants to hear."

"There are few creatures in the world who are willing to be as ugly that no one creature can be any uglier, and who are willing to be so hideous that they are interestingly hideous."

"Few will do this for the rest of the creatures in the world, but Clarence, the ugly Wart Hog, will—and does."

Grandma's Knack

(By CORA M. SILVER)

Grandma says she has lost her knack. But there's nothing gone that I can see.

I've looked and hunted, even down her back—

I wonder—might she be feeling me?

I looked through attic and the cellar, in cupboards, drawers, boxes, and bins;

I questioned Thomas, the old gardener, and I've looked in all the horse bins.

I've looked in the coal box and the furnace;

I searched every inch of rug and floor.

Even the ashes in the fireplace.

Even sent word to the grocery store.

No one admits they ever saw it.

Now, how can I poor Grandma do?

Do you think that you could get a bit of knack to give to Grandma dear?

Find the Whistle

Feed one or more guests from the room. The rest of the party forms in a circle. One of the guests that is out of the room is called in and blindfolded. He is then told that his hands are tied. Several players tap him on the back. Meanwhile some one secretly blows a whistle on his back by means of a long string. Different ones in the circle blow the whistle when his back is turned and he is told to guess who has the whistle. When he discovers the trick, another, who has been absent from the room, can be called in and the game repeated.

Camel—the greatest tobacco word of all time

NEVER in the history of smoking has there been such a cigarette as Camel. No other cigarette was ever made welcome in so many millions of homes, because no other ever brought so much enjoyment to smokers.

When Camels came into the world they brought an entirely new sense of smoking satisfaction and contentment. Millions who have tried them all, who could well afford to pay more, will smoke only Camels. Camels on the table mean that this is the home of experienced smokers.

Camel is the world's favorite cigarette. Camel is given a greater patronage than any other cigarette ever had. Why? Because Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. Because Camels never tire the taste, no matter how liberally you smoke them. Because they never leave a cigarette after-taste. The world's largest tobacco organization puts the utmost quality into this one cigarette.

If you want the mellowest mildness that ever came from a cigarette, try Camels. Regardless of what you are willing to pay, you will find in this famous smoke every fine feature you ever looked for in a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

"PINK Brush?"

Act before too late!

Do your gums bleed when you brush them? Calculus, Pyorrhea's wedge, has attacked!

You can free yourself from the clutch of this sinister foe by a new and simple means—quickly. We invite you to try it. At no cost to yourself. Simply mail the "Convince Yourself" Coupon below. Make the test.

Calculus is a "liquid cement" in your saliva. First sticky, it soon hardens. It forms a crust on your teeth as hard and abrasive as concrete. It catches all food, coffee and tobacco stains and dims the lustre of the white enamel. It works up under the gums paying them from the teeth. Stops steadily course immediately!

Calculus dentists are powerless to remove. Only one thing will positively remove calculus in its semi-hardened and near-hardened state—that is, "Tri-Calcium Phosphate," a remarkable health agent.

Dental science has now combined this wonderful "Tri-Calcium Phosphate" in a pleasant, tasty tooth paste—ORPHOS. With eleven other gum-healing ingredients! Dentists everywhere endorse it. Send for trial tube. End the "pink brush." Feel a new cooling sensation in the gums. Observe how beautiful your teeth are after ORPHOS has removed the clinging calculus.

Quebec System Aids Taxpayers

Removes Burden of Individual Tax-paying From Its Citizens and Abolishes Liquor Traffic and Carbs Bootlegging.

Taxpayers who are interested in the high cost of federal and state government will do well to consider the way in which the Province of Quebec has removed the burden of individual tax-paying from its citizens and at the same time has succeeded in abolishing the liquor traffic and curbing bootlegging.

The total population of the Province of Quebec is 996,807. An analysis of the fourth annual report of the Quebec Liquor Commission for 1924 and 1925 published on November 1, last, reveals the following interesting facts:

That the Province of Quebec made an average profit for four years ending April 30, 1925, of $6,448,222 on liquor sales after paying all carrying charge.

That the moneys derived from this source are spent on roads, charities and education.

During 1924 and 1925 the total figure of liquor sales in the Province was $17,887,588.19. Of this sum the Province paid to the Dominion government for customs and excise and sales tax, $6,648,545, of 37.2 per cent.

According to Emory R. Buckner, United States District Attorney, apparently 60,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol in the United States goes into the bootleg trade annually. He states that the bootleggers split each gallon three times. This reduced to quarts and sold at even $6 a quart, shows up the shocking figure of $3,600,000,000 gross business involved in 60,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol.

Thinking citizens are coming to the conclusion that the Quebec plan of liquor control is an excellent model for this country to follow.

The population of New York state, according to the last federal census, is 10,385,227. Estimating that this population would consume the same amount per person as the population of the Province of Quebec and adopting the same tax rate as that of Canada, the federal government would reap a profit from New York state alone of $68,334,693.66.

By extending this system to the federal government with its population of 105,710,620, the government would reap an estimated profit of $695,575,879.60, from the entire United States, with the same per capita rate as that used in the Quebec plan, of $6.58.

As matters stand today, the average citizen is paying the federal government a per capita tax of $12.31. The only group profiting by the present system is the bootleggers, whose annual net profits have been estimated by Mr. Buckner at $1,250,000,000—a sum considerably larger than the net passenger revenue of all the railroads in the United States in 1924, which totaled $1,074,615,373.

Under the Quebec system the bootlegger has gone to stay. The only bootlegging that goes on is done for the benefit of American tourists. It is not possible for the bootlegger to compete with the government liquor prices and brands.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS AID CAMP MEMORIAL

Dr. Mather A. Abbott, headmaster of Lawrenceville School at Lawrenceville, N. J., has notified the Walter Camp Memorial Committee and the authorities of Yale University that 1,850 private preparatory schools will participate in the memorial which is to be built at New Haven, Conn., for the late Walter Camp. Dr. Abbott, who is chairman of a special committee representing "prep" schools, says that the participating institutions which come under this committee's jurisdiction represent every section of the country.

Under the plan devised by the Camp Memorial Committee, each one of the private schools contributing to the $300,000 memorial fund will have its name cut in the bronze tablets which will flank the monumental gateway to the Yale athletic fields to be erected as a memorial to the man who did so much for football. Dr. Abbott has arranged to have the "prep" school contributions raised through voluntary subscriptions of 25 cents from each pupil in the various schools.

Public high schools will participate through funds raised, for the most part, through the impact of a special surcharge to be placed on all tickets for football games to be played by the participating schools on Walter Camp Day. It is expected that 16,000 high schools will help swell the fund in this manner, according to the committee in charge of this division. On this committee are C. W. Whittem, Illinois, chairman; Dr. William Burdick, Maryland; B. C. B. High, North Dakota; Merle Pranty, Oklahoma; and H. J. Moore, California.

INTELLECTUAL WAR THROUGH BOOK STORES

London, Sept. 2 (R).—London's Socialist book store is to have an anti-Socialist competitor. Its slogan is, "Back to Herbert Spencer," and its moving spirit is Sir Ernest Benn, the publisher. His associates in the enterprise include a ship owner, a Liverpool banker, a member of Parliament and an ironmaster.

"We shall certainly not stock Marx," Sir Ernest said, "but it is difficult to give offhand a list of sound thinkers."

Defining sound literature, Sir Ernest said, "It is literature which seeks to explain the present economic system and show how it works rather than advocate new systems."

"We shall sell," he said, "the sound economic and social writers of an earlier generation before so many economists went off on the wrong track. Canaan is sound enough in the present generation, and so, I suppose, was Marshall, but we want to get back, especially to Herbert Spencer. No doubt we shall go in to some extent like our Socialist rivals for a drama and poetry section but the main purpose of our bookshop will be to organize individualists against the collective man."

The Season's Fruit For Use Next Winter

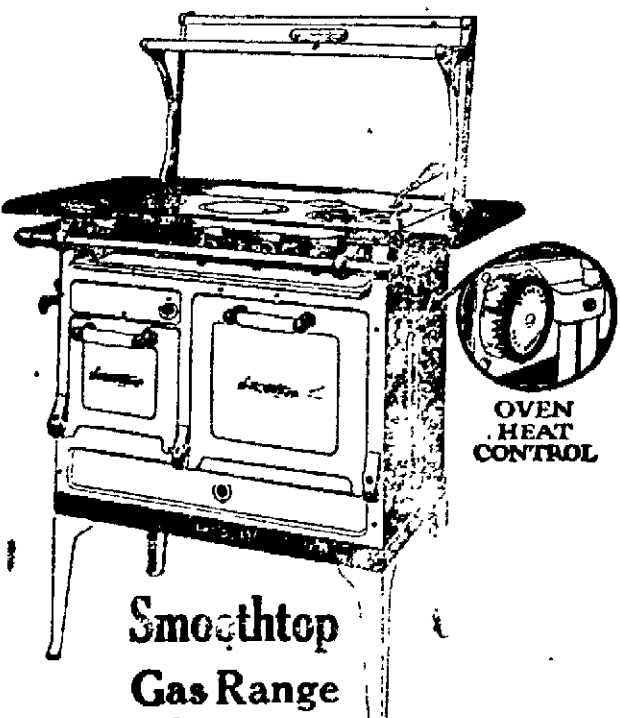

Do you know the cool and easy way of canning fruit for use next winter?

Fruit season always means canning season—and this, too often, means hot, steamy trouble—for the housewife who is storing away enjoyment for coming winter months.

But fruits can now be canned in a cool and easy way, with their natural flavor preserved, by using the regulated oven of a modern gas range instead of a steaming, unwieldy boiler. The oven regulator on our

CLARK JEWEL Gas Range

Smoothtop Gas Range

Smoothtop, Clark Jewel and A-B gas ranges will transform the canning process for you.

After the fruit is packed in cans and set in the oven—there's no watching. The regulator keeps the temperature right, you are free for other household tasks, and the kitchen remains cool.

A special offer is now being made on our entire line of Smoothtop, Clark Jewel, and A-B gas ranges.

$5 Allowance for Your Old Range

For your old coal, oil, or gas range—when replaced by a new gas range—a $5 allowance will be made.

Here's Another $5 Allowance

The prices on our ranges include satisfactory installation by our company. If there is a gas line in your kitchen, we give you the advantage of this saving of labor and material by allowing $5 toward the purchase price.

Portuguese Send Relief To Horta

No Fear of Immediate Food Shortage—Martial Law Established to Prevent Looting.

Horta, Fayal Island, Azores, Sept. 2 (AP).—Martial law restrictions, instituted after Tuesday's disastrous earthquake were tightened throughout the island today to cope with looting, a number of cases of which have been reported.

Horta despatches last night said 25 persons had been killed and not less than 100 injured in that city, the chief town of Fayal Island, while many buildings were wrecked.

There is no fear of an immediate food shortage, as temporary bakery ovens have been erected to replace those which collapsed during the quake.

Portuguese Government Sends Aid. The Portuguese government has dispatched a ship laden with food, cross supplies and clothing, and others which will aid in clearing the ruins and repairing the roads. The cruiser Carvalho arrived here.

The quake was centered in Fayal, the other islands receiving only to a small extent the effect of the movement, which was directionally south-east. The shock, believed to be due to subsidence of the earth's surface, lasted for twelve seconds, taking the form of a series of jolting jars.

People Flee From Buildings. The inhabitants fled from the buildings and began an exodus which former British army men compared with the flight of war refugees, with hastily gathered belongings piled in all available conveyances. The Portuguese boat San Miguel, lying in the harbor, took aboard a number of unfortunates. Others, including many Britishers, are preparing to leave on other ships as soon as possible.

Man Tortured to Death. Chicago, Sept. 2 (AP).—Believed to have been tortured to death with fire, gasoline and a rope, the body of a man was found in a field near Chicago Heights today. Police attributed the killing to a bootlegger war that has claimed seven lives in the suburb.

Suzanne Completes Preparations. Paris, Sept. 2 (AP).—Suzanne Lenglen, former women's lawn tennis champion of the world who recently turned professional, has completed preparations for her American tour. She will sail on the Leviathan for New York September 21.

Italy Ready For Industrial Crisis

Rome, Sept. 2 (AP).—The Italian government is prepared to face a tremendous industrial crisis as a result of the financial deflation campaign launched by the council of ministers. The Associated Press was today told by Signor Grandi, the under secretary of state for foreign affairs, "No other government in Europe could carry out the program we have embarked upon without placing machine guns in the streets." Signor Grandi declared, asserting that the government considered the adoption of this deflation program the most important step taken since Mussolini announced that he would crush all political opposition.

"We expect a serious, but we hope transitory crisis, in industry," he said. "Undoubtedly there will be unemployment for six months or so affecting 500,000 to 1,000,000 men. As the artificial inflation of industry is punctured there will be many collapses accompanied no doubt by much suffering. But it is the only honest path open to us and Mussolini in his decisive way has determined to see it through to a finish."

U.S. Gets Money From Germany

Washington, Sept. 2 (AP).—The United States has $5,304,000 cash as its first installment of German reparations under the Dawes plan. The funds will be used to satisfy judgments awarded by the American-German claims committee.

For that purpose the American government receives 2 1/2 per cent of the German reparations.

The treasury expects also to receive $12,000,000 in reparations this year to pay the cost of maintaining the American army on the Rhine.

RURAL REFORMED CHURCH SERVICES ON SUNDAY

Krumville.—There is to be service next Sunday, and the Rev. L. M. Druan is expected to conduct it. There is a change in time. INVESTIGATE PLOT TO KILL OHIO SAFETY DIRECTOR.

Cleveland, Sept. 2 (AP).—An alleged plot by professional gamblers to kill Safety Director Edwin D. Barry was being investigated by police and detectives today. The plot was revealed by a man who asserted that he and several others had been offered $50,000 to "get rid of Barry". The alleged plot is believed to have been concocted because of Barry's warfare against the gamblers. Details of the plot were told to police by a man taken into custody on a burglary and larceny warrant. He denied the theft and said that the man who had sworn to the warrant was a gambler who had approached him and several other men two months ago and had offered them $50,000 to "get rid of Barry".

Want American Power Limited

Delegates Discussing America's World Court Reservations Want U. S. to Have Equal Powers With Other Nations But No More.

Geneva, Sept. 2 (AP).—The opinion that the United States should have the same rights in the World Court as members of the League of Nations council, but no more, was voiced by many delegates at today's session of the international conference convoked to discuss the American reservations to membership in the court.

If this opinion weighs in the conference, it may be impossible to accept the fifth American reservation, requiring the consent of the United States to requests for advisory opinions from the court on questions in which she claims interest.

The reasons for this is that the law of the League of Nations is so obscure that it is uncertain whether unanimous or only majority vote is necessary when the league council asks the court for such opinions. Some of the delegates held that, if unanimity were made essential, the United States could not vote anyway to a question at issue, while if a simple majority only were needed, it would be impossible to accord the United States the right to block the decision of the majority.

Italy and France joined in an appeal to the United States to waive insistence upon the right of veto, to agree to sit temporarily with the league council on an equal footing with the great powers and to abide by whatever rules may be accepted by the great powers as the members of the council generally.

The discussion was continuing this afternoon.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Sept. 2 (AP).—The undertone of the market was stronger today on strictly fancy well blanching celery but unimproved on ordinary to poor. Receipts were limited from all parts of the state. The very fine offerings in the rough from western New York wholesaled from $2.50 @ $2.75, occasionally as high as $3 per two-third crates. Arrival from Orange county sold from $1 @ $1.25, depending entirely upon the condition and quality.

Receipts of cucumbers were rather liberal. Trading was generally slow with market dull and weaker. Sales were transacted at chiefly from $1.25 @ $1.75 per bushel basket. Dills realized from $1.50 @ $3, principally $2 @ $2.50 and pickles brought $3 @ $5, according to size.

Catskill mountain cauliflower sales again varied greatly because of the wide range in both condition and quality. The demand was only fair and the market ruled more in the buyer's favor. Good quality stock peddled out from $2.50 @ $5 per crate while ordinary to poor sold from $1.50 @ $3.

The lettuce situation was stronger on western iceberg under continued limited receipts and business was transacted at $9.50 @ $10 per crate of four and five dozen heads. On the other hand, state lettuce was in more plentiful supply and values were sustained only on fancy, well-headed stock, free from tipsiness or other defects. Some strictly fancy big Boston commanded as high as $4 per crate of two dozen heads and the poorest sold down to $1.

Supplies of state green peas were limited but the quality was seldom attractive enough to realize more than $3 per bushel basket. About a carload of peas arrived from California packed in bushel hampers and changed hands readily at $4.50 @ $5.50.

The tomato market as a whole showed very little if any important change. Offerings from the Hudson valley were moderate and the demand fairly good, particularly on fancy ripe stock. Six till carriers jobbed out within the price range of $1 @ $3, mainly $1.50 @ $2. Twelve quart baskets realized 40c @ 75c.

High School Opening Dates

Kingston High School will open on Tuesday, September 7, at 8:30 a. m., only for those who are making their initial entrance to the school. Students who have been pursuing courses of study in the institution will not be admitted until the following day, Wednesday, September 8, at 8:30 a. m.

Mr. Van Ingen, principal of the high school, will be in his office on September 3, from 1 until 4 p. m., and on September 4, from 9 to 12 a. m., for conference with parents or pupils.

PEACHES AND HERMAN'S PEACH OF AN IDEA

Does it pay to advertise in The Freeman when you have the goods? Ask L. M. Hermance of Ulster Park, who announced in four inches of space on Wednesday that he had peaches for sale at bargain prices. Mr. Hermance did have something over 100 baskets of peaches, but he didn't have them a few hours after The Freeman got in circulation. He will have more and better peaches later, probably Saturday, and will let Freeman readers know about it when he has them. Long after dark Wednesday night and long after the last peach was gone people came to Mr. Hermance's for peaches. So Mr. Hermance thinks the biggest and best peach of all is the peach of an idea that led him to advertise peaches in The Freeman.

Hoe Handles Omilies Adams

The Onion Moon.
The Indiana who were wont to name months by such events as plantings and harvests might have called this month the Onion Moon. Early September should see the home garden onions ripened and ready for pulling. If they are still green at that time, the gardeners at the state agricultural college recommend checking growth and hastening ripening by breaking down the tops. Some folks roll a barrel over them for this purpose. They should be pulled in dry weather and allowed to cure in the field for two or three days. Before storing, cut away the tops to within an inch or so of the bulb. Too close cutting may cause decay. Store onions in a cool, dry place but safe from freezing.

AROUND OUR HOUSE.

The Little Things Count.

An egg beater that slips its cog may be the cause of a lost temper and a spoiled dinner. If the egg beater has double beating parts, and a turning wheel between the two small bowls on the side, and there is a hard time to slip and there is small chance that it will hurt a position of a meal. The same is true with other small items about the kitchen. A rolling pin on which the roll will turn while the handles stay still in the hands is easiest to use. A paring knife with a curved blade makes short work of paring vegetables. If its handle is firmly riveted to the metal there is little chance that it will come off at the wrong time. A lemon reamer large enough to really remove the juice from an orange or lemon, and deep enough to hold the juice without spilling, saves much annoyance. A twisted-in-wire sink brush with a wooden handle will clean sinks or scour pans without scouring one's hands at the same time. Forethought in selecting the small kitchen equipment is as important as in choosing the large pieces for the rest of the house.

PINE HILL.

Pine Hill, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Raymond Winchell was at Kingston last Friday and visited her mother, who is in the Kingston City Hospital, recovering from an operation.

The new bridge being built below the Pine Hill Lake to replace the old one is nearly completed and is of concrete structure.

On Saturday evening the Rip Van Winkle Hotel orchestra will hold their closing entertainment and dance at the hotel dance hall.

The receipts of the card party held at the Pine Hill Arms last Wednesday evening amounted to $70.

R. C. Hall of New York, special agent for the Springfield Fire Insurance Co., was in town a couple of days last week.

Miss Bessie Dowler and Miss Ruth Zboray of Brooklyn are guests at the Pine Hill Arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed France of Brooklyn are in town visiting Mr. France's parents.

H. L. France made a business trip to Kingston the first of the week.

John Di Salvo and family of New York are spending the week in town, guests at the Pine Hill Arms.

John has many friends at Pine Hill, having occupied Mrs. Celia Thompson's cottage for two seasons, all of whom were glad to see him again.

Mrs. Sarah Gavett, aged 76 years, died at her home in this village last Friday morning, having been in ill health for several months. Her funeral was held from the M. E. Church at Margaretville, with interment in the cemetery at Arena. Deceased is survived by two sons, Truston and Oscar Gavett, who reside in Brooklyn.

Joel L. Keator, president of the Citizens' Bank at Fleischmanns, was a Pine Hill visitor on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Terry of Kingston, accompanied by a party of friends, were guests at the Pine Hill Arms on Sunday.

All of the boarding house proprietors are making arrangements for large crowds over Labor Day, and on Tuesday and Wednesday most of the houses will close.

WEST SAUGERTIES.

West Saugerties, Sept. 2.—The Rebecks of this place are having a fair and supper at the Odd Fellows' Hall on Friday afternoon and evening, this week.

Philip Barnforth and lady friend and two other friends of Waltham, Mass., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burton on Wednesday afternoon, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Teetzel took a day off last week and went to Tannersville to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jones Teetzel.

A party of fifteen friends of Paul Pandolfi and Mrs. Corvetti came from New York and Brooklyn to join those who were celebrating his birthday.

Edward Burton with a niece and nephew from Tannersville enjoyed a day's visit with his brother, Henry Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ransom and son, Jesse, of West Mountain, were Sunday afternoon guests at the home of John Carr.

School will open here on Tuesday morning next week, nothing interfering.

Miss Adelaide Gaffney of Brooklyn and her sisters were callers at the home of Mrs. John Carr on Monday afternoon.

There will be religious services held in the chapel for two weeks beginning next Sunday.

All Dairymen Will Celebrate

The Tenth Anniversary of the Launching of the Movement of Cooperative Marketing—Big Meeting at Synagogue.

New York, Sept. 2.—All dairymen of the New York Milk Shed have been invited to join in the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the launching of the movement for organized cooperative marketing of milk out of which has grown the world's greatest milk cooperative, the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc.

It was on October 1, 1916, that dairy farmers of this territory announced their intention to declare their independence and have a voice in the marketing of their products. Decision to observe the anniversary with fitting exercises was reached at the annual meeting of the League in Buffalo last June.

The long series of sacrifices of 1916 and prior thereto were shared in by dairymen generally of the territory. While progress of the old Dairymen's League, Inc., was slow at the beginning, producers flocked to the standard when the real test came and membership contracts were signed by the thousands. That organization, which has since been replaced by the Cooperative Association, served well its purpose in its title and under the conditions then prevailing.

From that memorable struggle of 1916 all milk producers have derived benefits regardless of their affiliations. They have gained a new independence and greater prosperity. A voice in determining the price to be paid for what they produce has been won by those who have gone along with organization and steadily and constantly cooperated.

In planning the series of celebrations to commemorate the 1916 victory it has been found fitting to urge all producers to take part. Therefore these meetings will be open to all. Complete programs have not yet been formulated for the meetings, but that to be held in Syracuse will probably be the largest. Producers from ten counties will meet there at a dinner meeting. Judge J. D. Miller, first vice president of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., will be the principal speaker. R. E. Van Cise, head of the League's production department, will also speak, and R. D. Cooper of Little Falls, former president of the League, will tell something of the early struggle.

Another giant meeting will be held in Western New York to be participated in by dairymen of several counties. Other smaller meetings of a few counties or one county alone are also expected to be held.

MOMBACUS HEIGHTS.

Mombacuss Heights, Sept. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Martin and little son Harold left on Tuesday last on their return trip to the west, after spending a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Van Etten, and a short time with other relatives.

Mrs. Martin and son have been east since before Christmas of last year and spent the winter with her parents here. After the arrival of her husband in March they located in New Jersey for a time but Mr. Martin chose Montana as a permanent dwelling place.

School days will soon be here again, with Miss Helen Sahler of Pataunkunk as teacher of the school.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Starke, son Frank, and daughter Lucile, of Pataunkunk, who have spent their vacation in the White Mountain region of the New England states, spent a few days the past week with Mrs. Starke's sister, Mrs. L. Van Etten, and family.

The boarding season is about ended in this locality.

Members of the Van Etten family and their guests enjoyed the county fair at Ellenville on Thursday evening and Friday afternoon.

J. Dero of Pataunkunk spent the week end with Ralph Smith and family.

The friends and old neighbors of F. P. Smith and family in this place sympathize with them in their time of trouble. Mr. Smith was a former resident of this place. He is critically ill at his home in Pataunkunk.

Mrs. Harry Smith and children of Pataunkunk were callers on Sunday afternoon at her parents' home here and on Ralph Smith and family.

The children are slowly recovering from the effects of the whooping cough.

Mrs. L. Van Etten and son, Harold, were guests of a large party of friends from Lehigh, on an auto trip to Lake Mohawk, on Sunday, and had a most delightful day enjoying the beauties of the place, the

Going To Business School

The atmosphere of a well-organized business school is unique. At the Moran School you will find a group of young men and women working to a definite purpose. They know that the skill they are developing will be put to a definite application within a few months. In what other type of institution are such conditions apparent? That is the reason why young people are turning constantly toward MORAN BUSINESS SCHOOL for help in realizing this ambition.
